DEDICATION

It is with grateful appreciation that we dedicate the 1964-65 Silver Sabres to Miss Elvire Webster, our guidance counselor. In her four years at Lee she has spent innumerable hours preparing records, interpreting tests, scheduling classes, and writing letters of recommendation. Yet never has anyone been in her office that she hasn't put aside her paper work with a ready smile and a cheerful "What can I do to help you?" To the Class of '65 Miss Webster is more than just a teacher; she is a personal friend to every student.

Dear Seniors,

As we look back over the last twelve years of our relatively short lives, we view our school days with mixed emotions. Now suddenly we understand why so many adults refer to them as "The happiest days of my life." While we once used to laugh doubtfully at this phrase, we now have trouble trying to suppress a nostalgic smile.

Graduation is rapidly approaching, and to most of us this represents a definite change in our patterns of living. We face a new way of life, one with greater decisions and new responsibilities to ourselves and our fellow man. Armed with knowledge and burdened by inexperience, we are being sent to challenge a world different in only our viewpoint. Ten years from now, whether we sit in a teacher's chair, a Fifth Avenue penthouse, or a tent by the L&N railroad, we will be able to more fully appreciate the values of our education and especially those of our wonderful high school days here at Lee.

Ah, yes, who could ever forget those long green halls, the little pink abracadabra slips, the noble blue and gray general on the gym wall, and even the brightly lighted classrooms with at least one flickering fluorescent light that brought out the strangest colors in the girls' hair. Colorful is the word. These have been colorful days enhanced by the spark of knowledge and blended with the joy of friendship.

"Happiness is not a destination but merely a method of travel."

May God bless you all.

"ONCE UPON A TIME"—These are the familiar words that take us, sometimes wistfully, back to our childhood and the carefree days of the past. All too soon these same words will take us back to an expanded past that will include the years of high school.

Each person will have his own memories, but the annual staff suggests that these might be guided by the familiar fairy tales. As you, fifteen or twenty years from now, you might recall a prince as beautiful as Goldilocks, or a fairy as mischievous as Puck, or a prince as charming as Prince Eric. There was the girl who was as beautiful as Cinderella (after her rags in the forest) and the boy who was as outstanding an athlete who could run as fast as Jack did to the beanstalk. There were those students as popular as Snow White was with the Seven Dwarfs or as intelligent as Rapunzel, who used her "head." Then there was one teacher whose long assignments and difficult tests put him in the category with Blackbeard. And of course the girls will always be able to recall those few boys who strangely resembled the wolf that chased Red Riding Hood.

These moments of the future are the moments of the present, and the Silver Sable staff has tried to capture some of them in the next few pages. We hope this Year's Who's Who section will provide the springboard for a whole host of pleasure stories, memories, and over high school classmates and activities as you obtained in your childhood from fairy tales.

Clubs

LEWIS HIGGINS SCHOOL has in its credit a fine club program, both honorary and voluntary. The National Honor Society may be considered honorary under the honorary portion. This organization is made up of a select group of students chosen on the basis of character and scholastic achievement. The Quill and Scroll Club also follows this principle. Those serving on the Student Council are granted this honor by their fellow class members through election. The Thespian Club is composed of those students who have acquired a total of ten points by participating in various plays.

One may also participate in clubs chosen on a purely voluntary basis. These include such organizations such as the Future Teachers Association, Future Nurses Club, and the D. O. and D. E. Clubs. These clubs usually require an interest in the profession for membership. A definite scholastic average must be maintained for admission into the Key Club, Alpha Gamma, Beta, Gamma Club, Gamma Club, JETS, Tri-Hi-Y, Hi-Y and Anchor Clubs. The Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y are also Christian organizations and membership in the Y.M.C.A. or Y.W.C.A. is necessary. The Reading Club, Art Club, Spanish Club and Debate Club do not require specific scholastic qualifications, only interest in that particular field.

Yours truly,

I am really glad to express personally to you
my friendly wishes for a bright and happy future.
I don't even forget the angels too.
With love from your family and friends.
Mr. Smith is well.
Love,
John J. Smith

Mr. Fox, Advisor

For three years, in one capacity or another, the Lee High Key Club has strived to be of service to the school and community. Each year we've done bigger and better things and now as our third year wears on, let's look back at the things we've achieved and forward to the things we hope to achieve during this memorable year of 1964-65.

This year we started things off with our sales of license plates. We ushered at the assemblies and pep rallies. Our pledges posed as cheerleaders at the Phillips game. We provided corsages at Homecoming and presented one to each cheerleader. We served as hosts to the college delegates on College Day. We donated more than fifty hours of service to the Christmas Charities and we are now starting a very worthy service project aimed at protecting the children of our community.

As the year progresses, we hope to sponsor more worthwhile projects.

Future Nurses Club

The Future Nurse's Club hopes to accomplish several worth-while projects during this school year. The various projects will be financed by the club dues and through a main money-making campaign.

During the Christmas holidays the Nurse's Club hopes to aid in giving a party for the residents of the Hahn Home for Negro Children.

For our programs during scheduled club meetings we intend to have various speakers from the varied fields of the nursing profession. In this way members may become acquainted with the different aspects of nursing.

Is Christmas Real Anymore?

Twice the night before Christmas and all through the house nothing is stirring except the regular pounding beat of the family's new stereo set as stacks of records play the night away. In your room you are dialing all your friends on your new, private, baby pink telephone resting on the desk of your new, matched, five-piece French provincial bedroom suite. From the street comes dimly a vision, a vision, and screeching of brakes as your brother tries out his new, long, low, black-with-red-interior-and-bucket-seats sports car. Down the street some of your more poverty stricken neighbors are preparing to get in their year old car (which they got last Christmas) and go to church services.

Inside, the records keep playing and the phone stays off the hook and the vision, vision, never ceases.

One Little Voice Merry Christmas With Love

"Will you help me wrap up some love, Grandma?" asked the little girl. "That's what I'm going to give Mom and Daddy for Christmas."

Curly?

Sure.

But not to a five-year-old whose monetary wealth consists of a quarter and a few pennies hidden in a doll purse.

Still, when Grandma helped the little girl write a note of love on a simple card, the few tears of joy on Grandma's cheek made her realize that this was the most wonderful gift of all.

Wouldn't it be something to gift-wrap love for your family... gift-wrap the gratitude you feel toward those who are so much a part of you...

Giving the gift of love is the most expensive, the most precious present on earth, and money is unnecessary. Anyone with a heart can bestow it. Yet, few will give love, for it is so much easier to buy a present and Christmas wrap it with red or green ribbons.

The gift of love, however, requires constant effort, for it must be ever renewed. You must give of yourself your thought and your sympathy, your smiles and your understanding, your unselfish acts, and your strivings to do right.

In addition to presenting the bright store gifts on Christmas morning, try a simple kiss on the cheek of each member of your family. And with that kiss, these

In America suffering a decay? Are we only money and pleasure minded? Has the real meaning of the holiday season disappeared under stark commercialism?

Christmas was originally begun as a religious celebration of the Christian faith. Somewhere along these Santa Claus was introduced and gradually the religious aspect was lost amid brightly wrapped packages and timelined overflows.

Of course, many people don't forget they keep in mind the religious significance as well as the new T-Bird Santa Claus is bringing Christmas Eve.

Are you one of these people?

Conformity Versus Individuality

by Robert Bruce MacIlveen

All too often in this day and age, teenagers shun the moral code set by society. In order to become "Accepted" into a clique or other similar social group, they unwisely abandon what is ethically right both in their eyes and the eye of society. The common result of these acting with more passion than prudence, is a guilty conscience and a general feeling of anxiety.

It is in high school where one should become aware of the great downfall of mediocrity and conformity. The high school student is target to excel not vegetate. The administrators and faculty encourage both leadership and individuality among the students. They profess that we are free to be unequal. That is we exist in a society abounding with treasures ready to be tapped by anyone wishing to put forth the effort to do so.

Because of the individual nature of such men as Einstein, Edison, Hemingway, and Faulkner, our society thrives in an era of great technical and literary advancement. These men have risen to the heights of immortality because they refused to conform to the standards of their times.

As is the memorable words of Channing: "The great hope of society is individual character."

'Bye Bye Birdie' - Wow!

Finally we're going to get a chance to show Huntsville what we're made of.

The Senior Class has made a momentous decision by choosing a project that will take hard work and lots of co-operation.

Even if you have no talent.

Anglo-Saxons Pull The Wool

by Ann Atcherson

Isn't it amusing to watch people trying to leave a false impression? It's so hard to keep yourself from shouting to them to stop faking, just relax and be themselves.

This is exactly what happened to me last week. Fifth period had just started, and everything was running smoothly. All at once a group of shaggy looking boys were running up the hall. "Who are they?" Everyone inquired. I stuck my head out the door and was told that the noisy visitors were recording artists known as the Anglo-Saxons and the Remick Combo. Instantly our newspaper sponsor shouted, "Story, story, quick go get an interview. Get their views on Americans and American schools." (They were supposedly from England.)

"Excuse me, but are you a member of a visiting group?" I inquired.

"Oh yes," replied the poorly imitated voice. "I'm Frank, the leader of the Anglo-Saxons, we're from England you know."

"Yeah," I thought, "why Clam Owen can speak with more of an English accent than you, and he has never seen the shore of England."

"We're really fascinated by these schools, all on one floor you know. And the way they dress it's all so different."

The group rambled on and on about how different our schools were. All this time all of the boys, with the exception of Frank, were speaking with a delightful south-

Are You Too Indifferent?

An American is a person who believes in the ideals of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness on which America was founded. It is not necessary to be born naturalized here; anyone, anywhere can be an American spirit. Strangely, it often seems that people of other not-so-fortunate countries are truer patriots of these ideals than United States citizens themselves, who have so much and are so indifferent to it all.

The story of American history dramatically illustrates the need that drove people to form a new country, the land we call the United States of America. Lack of religious freedom, intolerance, economic want in Europe all combined to bring people to a new land to begin a new life.

Through the years the American way of life has been built. We have a proud history - Lincoln and Corcoran, Benker Hill, John Patrick Henry, George Washington, Paul Harvey, and John F. Jones.

Today, the average American thinks too little of why he enjoys the rights and privileges he does, even while enjoying them. He's for the most part, indifferent to our proud heritage from the past. National holidays such as the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving remind him not of the Declaration of Independence and the Pilgrims but rather of fireworks and candies.

Indifference in every day life, in areas such as compassion for

The Home Economics Club is composed of girls interested in the many facets of home economics—cooking, sewing, home decoration, family care, and grooming. Programs are planned on these different aspects of home economics in order to interest each girl.

The first important function of the club this year was the tea held December 2. The Home Ec classes, along with the club, planned for, prepared for, and served at the tea. Mothers of the girls were invited and everyone seemed to enjoy it. The girls gained much experience by helping with the tea.

Varsity

As the yearbook goes to press the Lee High Basketball Team is on its way to the best season in the school's history. Thus far the Generals have won 10 games and lost only 3. The Generals are currently ranked 7th in the state by the Associated Press, and feelings are that they will be ranked higher before the season ends. The Generals finished in third place in the Tennessee Valley Conference Tournament, and won the first athletic trophy for Lee. We are sure that before the season is ended we will see greater accomplishments by our basketball team.

The first track season for the Generals proved to be an unsuccessful one as they failed to record a victory. There was one bright spot, however, in that most of the boys on the team were freshmen and sophomores and there was some improvement as the season went on. Meets were against T.V.C. teams Dehler, Sheffield, Athens, Hontsville, and Butler. The team also participated in the T.V.C. championship meet.
